

Social Policy Program: Required Courses

Required courses in the Social Policy Program in the School of public Affairs include the following (with the semester they are typically offered noted in parantheses):

PUAF 611 Quantitative Analysis of Policy Issues (both Fall & Spring)

PUAF 734 Foundations of Social Policy (Spring)

Three other Social Policy courses from the following list:

- PUAF 698 Education Policy (Spring)
- PUAF 698 Evaluation of Welfare Reform (Fall - not in '02 though)
- PUAF 698 Family Policy (Spring - possibly not in '03)
- PUAF 698 Managing Social Services (Fall)
- PUAF 698 Strategies for Equality (Spring)
- PUAF 735 Health Policy (Fall)
- PUAF 770 Housing and Community Development (Spring)
- CCJS 699 Vice & Organized Crime (Fall)
- Any other social policy-related graduate course approved by the director of the Social Policy Program